FOREWORD

Man has always been in illusion as to how this universe is working in a set order. Every endeavour is made by him to know more and more in this aspect alongwith his efforts to improve & develope his life comforts. A sustained level of progress continues unabated. By now very tall claims are made of achievements whatsoever. But basic point of his illusion stands unsolved for various factors.

We know man is a social animal. He is superior to all other creatures of this world because of nature's gifted high level intellect and wisdom. All the same a lot of research works are accomplished in various fields of life both material as well as spiritual. Unlike scientists and scholars in the material aspects, many great mystics and attained souls have also taken birth on this earth, providing guidelines through their teachings and writings. This all can be known better through reading of related literature.

At my individual level I had an intense curiosity in my mind since long to observe, gain and gather some experience.This ultimately provided me an inspiration to pen down bits of these experiences (in theme) in a few lines, of course, within the limits of my capacity only. Hence this booklet before readers. How they react is their discretion.

OM ALAKH-ISHWARI

TRUTH AT A GLANCE

Right from birth a man has certain inborn instincts and characteristics. With steady growth he nurtures several habits as per environment and atmosphere he lives in. By and by he matures enough to become worried and conscious of his future. So he aims at some targets and strives towards that goal. To achieve his objective he puts in best of his efforts within his capacity and takes bold decisions, may he right or wrong. Thus, he is by and large, guided by instincts apart from inspirations gained, if any. Life goes on, as such.

It is said by great sages and reformers that it is understandable to have high aspirations and taller ambitions but visionary parameters should not be narrowed in its broader perspective. There is much more beyond the limits of ambitions. This can be realized with deep thinking and contemplation. It may even need to have non-materialistic approach to find this mystery.

True that everyone should prosecute his efforts without deviation to build his/her career, but it is not necessery that every aspirant succeeds in his aim. Results of efforts put in are subordinate to some invisible power who is controlling this universe. Fruit of his efforts and labour is neither guaranteed nor certain in the way one wishes. Had it been so, every aspirant of becoming a doctor, Engineer or leader should have got it. It does not happen so. It goes vice versa at times. Reason so-called, can be many. We do see good talented persons come across low career despite resources and capability, Such kind of events result in frustration in case of some individuals who later take extreme negative steps of even suicidal bids Similarly people having poor academic background with known inefficiency and incompetence reach at top positions. Media has been occasionally exposing such glaring tales to light. The society in general is also aware of such facts. All the same our scriptures and legendary knowledge do also speak of the possibility of such outcome.

Yes, Science has made progress super fast. Many discoveries and inventions are at its credit. One feels it admirable for its merits but at the same time forgets to realize its demeris. Dark face of it is more alarming. Scientists are bent upon to rule the nature and law of nature. It is apt to prove surely disastrous. Plus points of its achievement are virtually over shadowed by its minus points and net balance is on negative side. Yet many of us feel contented with its gains iignoring its loss factors. We do not foresee the grave problems it has posed with newer challenges to the mankind as a whole. Assured curable treatments for very old disease of cancer is still in the labs. So-called modern disease of AIDS is spreading fast. The number of patients involved in it is getting multiplied. Even some doctors refuse to treat these patients when the society also neglects them by and large. It has other harmful repercussions which we under estimate. Coming days will prove its grip. Likewise TB disease is taking its toll unabated year after year all around the world. Diabetes is termed as a disease of developing age spreading its net far and wide. It is now-a-days talk of time and taken as usual phenomenon.

Similarly there are many more diseases posing survival risk to mankind. -who brother?

Where are the scientific miracles for human benefit in its broder perspective ? People in general and also scientists talk of Nuclear & space war. This all is apparently the outcome of attempts to rule the natural working order. It is already causing imbalance in different fields may be ecology, meteorology, seasonal phenomenon etc. One essentially needs to have an introspection of the vivid facts and try to pin points factors behind the scene. Remember that over-ruling law of nature is proving counter productive.

Human birth is achieved after prolonged period. There are 84,000,000 species having life, if we belives authoritative revealed scriptures. One can understand this occult knowledge with deep studies of these scriptures where the subject is well described. Mystics and seers know this divine truth. After churning of the mystery they have realised the theme that human birth is superior to all other living creatures. After birth a man is supposed to have a mission in this material world. He is to get rid of birth and rebirth process. However, it does not imply that one should shun his ambitions. Yes it certainly demand to act well and discharge duties as described in authoritative books.

With regard to sages and seers let us not necessarily look long back to study the truth in preaching of past renowned souls, because many may disbelieve it or feel suspicious of the reality. But at the same time we should not forget also to give deep thought upon valuable revelation of some of the similar mystic of the recent past having historical evidence. These include Swami Reshi Peer, Swami Laxman Ji, Swami Gopi Nath Ji of Kashmir apart from Mata Roop Bhawani (Alakh-Ishwari) who is undisputedly accepted as incarnation of Sharika Devi.

Likewise many others have taken birth beyond Kashmir as well which include Shri SAI Baba, Swami Ram Krishan Param Hans, Swami Vivekanand, Bala Ji and so on. I pay my obeisance to them all. Plundering into their teachings with an urge to gain and understand the TRUTH, shall unfold much about the hidden mystery.

All the great seers had toiled hard spiritually to understand the truth. It has taken them decades of devotion with practice of penance and trance which ultimately turned them into high mystics with gaining of advanced level of spirituality. All such personalities had wide knowledge of supreme truth, i.e. existence of supreme energy, which we may name God, lord, paramatma and so on. All these facts can serve as guiding factors to a common man which evidently accept the existence of spiritual authority managing universe under set cosmic order.

However, to become a mystic can not be expected of every man. But a common man is supposed to understand their teachings and guidelines and to act upon accordingly. He needs to put effort and practice repeatedly which can certainly prove conclusive for vanishing of illusion and gloom. In this material world one should not forget to gain benefit of spirituality along with. Both can run parallel under specific norms.

Every action has an equal and opposite reaction. The term looks much appropriate in our routine life. Every action we take results in either positive or negative depending upon quality of action. Almightly is watching everhead. It reacts in reward or punishment as fruit of action. Simply one has to realize and feel it. All the same every reaction of action takes its own time to show its result as is these case of chemical action. Concentraction of chenmical used has a bearing on the result. Similarly it is quality of action that results in reward or punishment. One has to understand this concept in broader perspective.

Renunciation is never advised for every one. Yet on should have righteous approach in every action he does. One may feel it a tough task but is actually easy if put in practice. It is practice which make a man perfect. Every one can not be a seer but every one can be a true human with regard to his action and duties. Scholars, philosophers and learned persons have a role to play here so that existence of mankind is not put at stake in the name of progress and advancement with negative approach. In fact we do see its initial impact. "There are some species of animals and birds which are by now extinct while many more are at its verge. For instance Dinasaurs an animal belonging to reptile family is extinct now. Some other animals and birds are at the verge of extinction such as Jovian Rhinoceros, Kago, whooping crane and some more. Many books reveal such happenings with its causative factors if we like to know the subject in depth.

What is Global Warming ?

It is not global warming but virtually Global Warning in different Garb. This is highly deep rooted alarm to all of us so as to understand what long range repercussions it is to result by and by. It has already sown it seeds. If our scientists and people in general do not take serious notice of the same right now, it shall certainly be beyond human control to check it later. Why meteorological upheaval ? Why some rivers have gone dry ? Why deserts are extending its jurisdiction ? Why glaciers melt faster ? Occeans are expected to rise in level. Similarly space war appears a probability. Who bothers ?

None pluders in the apprehensive threat of dark future Things are apt to turn more gloomy in decades to come, how...... So, if we do not get awakened quicker to find the true and positive utility of so-called advancement we admire, it shall, one day, prove detrimental in various ways. We cannot ignore the fact that there is some force or super natural power which is controlling the universe. Ignoring reality or any attempt to change law of nature is to show its teeth when things touch climax.

One is free to enjoy life and strive for his bright future but within advised parameters as well as guided norms. Let us accept the truth and be not mislead while advocating for modern approcach in our own life. It, meanwhile demands faith in final beatitude in true spirits in our day to day thinking and action. We may call it LORD OR DIVINE POWER.

Better late than never, it is not too late to know and understand the absolute reality. One can least ignore ages old Vedic Literature and other scriptures covering every knowledge on various subjects having co relation with the universe and its management. There have been many scholars and personalites in the past possessing deep study of this treasure. There were the personalities well convinced with stisfaction of the theme the treasure contained. Consequently they have duly endorsed this truth in techings and preachings. It definitely strengthens the fact/conviction that one cannot disown the truth with simple pretext of dsibelief. All the same this is also true that one can not have proper understanding of the subject withot a spiritual appreoach. It involves interdependence to get more clarity.

Otherwise it is like a person with firm preference for economics but disbelieves in Astronomy. The reasons is sheer lack of indepth study in the subject he disbelieves. True that one is free to think and act but certainly with solid logic and faith.

Human life is an opportunity to learn more and more without any prejudice to the knowledge he does not possess. In order to gain knowledge in spirituality one has to make himself a seeker with due urge to learn. There can be mysterious knots in the process but it asks for repeated practice to gain spiritual reach. Practice only can change the perception and help untie such knots.

This universe has come into being millions of years ago. As per scrptures MANU is said as father of makind. By now ages have passed Right from stone age, variety of changes have taken place.Very great civilizations existed and collapsed. This very rise and fall is notable feature of the past under natural phenomenon. All such events are recorded by historians also. Besides research and findings of Archological Department of countries, from time to time endorse such past happenings. Despite all that none has said authoritatively about the power behind the scenario, barring mystics and seers who are exception to it.

After all who is over seeing the cosmic order ? How this universe is created and who is the creator ? There must be some power behind such goings. Is it Brahma, Vishnu, Mahesh who creates, maintain and destructs. These questions have been causing illusion with a common man right from inception. There is also eagerness to many to know this mystery. So much so Mahatma Budh the seeker of truth was silent in this context, inspite of his hard penance in remote jungles. He got enlightment and ultimately became a high mystic and founded Budhism which later spread far and wide. He enuniciated the world under desperation but on ellightment world ran after him. He has well acknowledged that there is a spiritual energy behind the anxious mystery.

RESOLUTION

As already stated, there is set guideline to be followed and put in practice. This regardless of religion and faith. Thus, there is no room for any doubt. Therefore, let us resolve to acquire habit of belief in the invisible super soul. Shun obstination in all its forms hindering the belief. One should never boast of being an atheist but try to put in practice to gain relative knowledge. Test the result but surely with staunch devotion. If possible strive to attain ultimate mission of life.

We do find that there are people who worship sun some adore specific type of tree, while many follow statue worship in different forms. What is it ? Everyone acts as per his belief. It is infact an easy approach to gather concentration in his meditation by focusing on object. This is more beneficial for those who are yet in infancy stage of spirituality and are not aiming at high level of spirituality, otherwise there is no God in a tree or stone whatsoever. The same is again a matter of faith. This reality is by and by finding acceptance of the people of even in scientific field. Instances are available. The subject is exhaustive and descriptive. It can not be thrashed in a few lines. Only requirement is to contemplate on DIVINE TRUTH. It can not be overshadowed by lack of knowledge and Faith.

CONCLUSION

In the aforesaid expressions, it has been my sole intention to emphasise upon the divine vision and an attempt to exploit it. The same is, however co-related with faiths on final beatitude and on the teachings of spiritually attained soul. Efforts in this regard should be relentless with dedication and devotion so as to achieve the desired goal. Spirituality is a science for those who have indepth study in this field. The seekers of spirituality may be called spiritual scientists. They too have conducted research in different aspects of the spirituality, tested it and recorded their findings. They have also harnesse its gain by doing wonders. The difference is simple that one is spiritual science and the other is material science. The spiritual science has positive outcome while other science has much more demerits and disadvantages than its positive points. Spiritual science is growing and ever lasting whereas material science flourishes and vanishes like great civilizations. If we relook to past date of 21st July 365 (A.D) when great civilizations of Egypt and greece perished miserably on account of mighty tsunami.

Extent of ruin was so fearful that deep sea bed (bottom) could be seen easily with many sea creatures. Big ships were thrown kilometers away from shore while water flowed over roof tops. (Refer Roman Historian Ammianus Marcelus. Similarly there are other numerous happenings with causative mystery yet unsolved and shall remain so. With the application of Scientific technology in every field of life, nations world over have been running race of development. Resources to compete this race, however, vary country to country or region to region. Some nations have become economically very strong, some are in the process while some are yet undeveloped. Thus, developed, developing and poor countries are the three categories we talk about. Ninteenth & 20th century witnessed this race of development with speed and spirit. Planners, researchers as well as executors enjoyed such achievements with over confidence thereby taking its full credit with them only forgetting that these are not mere efforts and resources which resulted so. There is some force which influences the outcome.

Otherwise had it not been so, why great powerful and resourceful nations like U.S.A.,

Japan, Germany face economic recession in the present global meltdown situation? Why did these giants allow it to happen ? Why could not they over come it despite various measures taken ? Apprehensions of bankrupcy in big banks are brightening. Market is also shivering. Other negative effects appear to follow. Reasons there-for may be pleaded many, but for argument sake only. One need to focus with sincere attentionas to find its hidden clue.... such type of happenings can reoccur in future as well with severe intensity. Material progress cannot stand long and beneficial uless spiritual science is adopted and followed in parallel. One should not, as such, get confused rather should study, introspect and realize the truth.

In the end let me add it here in context of the theme of above paras that GOD is an invisible force one can feel and realize it in various ways So much so, one can also see it in the form he adores as well as mediates upon it with determined devotion. It is termed as SAKAR Audience i.e. Theophany. In case of devotees seeking it formless and featureless bent of minds, the concentration is said as

C-0 Shri Alakh Sahiba Trust (Regd), Tirath Nagar, Talab Tillo, Jammu -180002. Digitized by eGango

NIRAKAR Audience. It is unusual but surely not impossible. Do not get puzzled. Try to seek and search. Result is certain one day depending upon his level of concentration and determination. of course, this type of research is carried out in seclusion, isolation and in remote place with NIL financial back up whereas other research scientists can have facilities and amenities above a common man's reach
